Tindall wins, run-offs set in other races

EAST BOROUGH COMMISSION RACE GOES TO A RUNOFF. East Borough candidates Dorothy

Walker and George Goforth congratulate each other after the voting tabulations were announced by City Clerk June Boglioli in Tuesday's election.

by ALMA HENRY

BELLE GLADE - Incumbent Claude Tindall of the North Borough won his third term as a City Commissioner in Tuesday's municipal election. Tindall received 1,151 votes to defeat his opponent, Clyde "Racy" Parrish, a former mayor and city commissioner. Parrish received 642 votes.

In the East and West Boroughs, a run-off election is necessary because neither of the candidates received 51 percent of the vote.

Incumbent Commissioner Dorothy Walker of the East Borough received 1,013 votes and will face George Goforth, Jr., in the runoff. Goforth received 648 votes.

Political newcomer, Iz Nachman, executive editor of the "Glades Trend" was third in the east borough with 480 votes.

In the West Borough, Daniel Bythwood, a human relations counselor with Palm Beach County Schools will face William "Bill" Greer in the runoff.

Greer served on the Commission for ten years before being defeated in 1979 by Randy Davidson and Alma Henry. Davidson won the run-off.

Bythwood received 890 votes, Greer received 915 and Robert Jones, Title I Coordinator for Florida Farmworkers Council in his first attempt at the city commission seat received 161 votes.

City Clerk June Boglioli said of the 4,955 registered voters, 2,128 cast ballots in the election with 28 absentee ballots.

Commission Tindall said he was pleased with the outcome of the election and wanted to thank his many supporters.

"I feel great and honored to have won," said Tindall. "I compliment my opponent for a good clean race."

he added.

Walker said she felt good, had worked hard, but apparently the "man upstairs" wanted her to be in a runoff.

"I want to thank the people who supported me in this election and ask that they return to the polls on next Tuesday," she said.

Ms. Walker said there will be a change of strategy for the runoff but was unsure what the change would entail.

Bythwood said he plans to work harder during the upcoming week.

"If the people want a candidate for the people, a true candidate for the people, they will return to the polls and vote for me," said Bythwood.

"I will not make any promises but I will work hard," Bythwood said.

He also said he was surprised the election was a close as it was.

Greer said he wanted to thank his many supporters and asked that they return to the polls on next Tuesday.

Goforth congratulated Walker on the race and said he thanked his many supporters.

The actual counting of the votes did not get underway until approximately an hour after the polls closed. City employees, Mike Underwood and Rhonni Cox, assisted Mrs. Boglioli with the counting.

Among the many spectators on hand for the election returns were County Commissioner Bill Bailey.

The runoff election will be held next Tuesday, Sept. 22 and the polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. All registered voters will be allowed to vote, providing they have proper identification.

Willard Taylor, Jr., will serve as the clerk and Mrs. Patty Berryhill is the deputy clerk.

In short

The dance will be from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. and will feature music by the Southern Knights Band. Ticket donations are $20 for the banquet and dance, $15 for just the banquet, and $10 for just the dance per person.

"Bear" makes 81st catch

Belle Glade K-9 "Bear" made his 81st "catch" of the year Saturday, Sept. 13, when he flushed a burglar from Lakeshore Elementary School.

Bear is handled by Officer Ron Shunk. Detective Bill Bulloch said that one measure of Bear's greatness is that many police dogs don't have as many "catches" in a career as Bear has had in just 2 and one-half years.

Bear's 81 catches is the most recorded by any police dog in Florida.

Jessie Santos, 21, was charged with burglary in connection with the Eastlake School incident. He had apparently broken into the cafeteria and had breakfast before being seen inside the building.

Talking part with Bulloch in the case were Patrolman Mike Johnson, and Sgt. Lee Kielman.

City to increase water, sewer, garbage rates

by ALMA HENRY

BELLE GLADE-The City Commission voted to increase the city's water, garbage and sewer rates, effective Nov. 1.

Frank Anderson, city finance director, told members of the commission that in order to balance the 1981-1982 fiscal year budget, the rates needed to be adjusted.

The Commission voted Monday night to increase the garbage rates 21.17 percent and the water rates 8.66. Both commercial and residential customers are subject to the increase.

The City Commissioners also gave their approval to a construction contract submitted by Eden's Construction Co. of South Bay, for more than $156,000.

The contract calls for the opening of Southwest Avenue F between Southwest Second and Fourth Streets; the replacement of water lines, repairs to the sewage system and street repaving.

City Planner and Community Development Director Remar Harvin made the presentation.

Harvin said the original bid submitted by Eden's Construction was $405,767, but the project was reduced because some of the work will be done by city employees.

Harvin said the reduced scope of the project brought the contract price within the money budgeted for the work.

Harvin said although city employees will perform the work of opening of Southwest Avenue F, Eden's Construction will do the installation of a new lift station; replacement of the water lines, and paving.

Harvin said approximately $192,000 had been appropriated in the Community Development budget for the project.

The Commission approved the contract with Eden's Construction on the stipulation the city can negotiate with the local construction company holding the state bid on paving.

In other business before the Commission:

-Approved the request for a change in zoning from professional to residential for property owned by Everglades Progressive Citizens, Inc. The property is located at 1000 to 1048 S.W. Ave. E., between S.W. 10th St.

and 12th St.

Harvin said no one appeared before the city's Zoning Board to protest the request.

-Heard a report from James W. Watt, State representative from District 80.

Rep. Watt said he was pleased with the 1981 Legislative session and the representatives efforts in the areas of transportation, education, and criminal justice.

In the area of transportation, Rep. Watt said Palm Beach County will receive an additional $25 million for 1-95 completion and Palm Beach School Board will receive $175 million.

Rep. Watt said one of the most important pieces of legislation on criminal justice was the changing of criteria for detaining and trying juveniles was broadened by reducing time in detention centers prior to hearings to 24 hours; with juvenile felonies tried in adult courts.

"The courts have more authority over placement and discharge of juveniles and can now release the names and address of juvenile felons 16 years or older or if a child 16 or

Jeff Brown joins staff

Publisher Garry Bumgardner announces the addition of Jeffrey R. Brown to the Herald-Observer staff this week.

Brown will serve as a staff writer and a number of his articles appear in this week's newspaper.

"We are pleased to bring Jeff to the Glades area. He will be reporting, exclusively on the people and events of the Belle Glade-Pahokee-South Bay area." Bumgardner said.

"Over one month ago, we began a search for a highly qualified reporter who would join the editorial staff of Jim Jones and Alma Henry. We advertised this position nationally. The response was just short of phenomenal. Among all the applicants, Jeff Brown was our number one choice and we feel for

Cane predictions look good for 81

An estimated 1,184,000 tons of raw sugar are expected to be produced during the 1981-82 grinding season from Florida's sugarcane industry, according to a preliminary crop projection reported by Dallon Yancy, vice president and general manager of the Florida Sugar Cane League.

The industry expects to harvest approximately 12 million tons of sugarcane from 55,000 acres, Yancy said. Harvesting will begin in early November and should end during early April.

"Even with this past season's extreme weather conditions, it would appear, at this time, that Florida could produce over a million tons crop," said Yancy. "Apparently, recent rains and good growing conditions have compensated for any losses that might have been experienced."

In mid-January, South Florida weathered several freezes which were thought to have caused damage to young cane. During two of the critical growing months for cane, June and July, the industry, along with all of South Florida, suffered from dry weather conditions and water shortages, Yancy explained.

The 1980-81 crop

Black Gold planning resumes

By JIM JONES

Members of the Black Gold Jubilee Committee met in Belle Glade City Hall Friday, Sept. 11, to begin making plans for the 4th Annual renewal of the festival.

Chairman Steve Weeks welcomed three new members to the committee—Anita Adams, Ernie McCroan, and Mike Burkett—and said that he intends for the Jubilee to continue to be self-sustaining.

In past years, the Committee has made most of its money from the sale of advertising in the official Black Gold Jubilee booklet. The City of Belle Glade has chipped in with money for a parade float and for a fire works display.

The Fourth Annual Black Gold Jubilee will be held the second weekend of April of 1982. The Committee set the new date last April so that the festival would fall on approximately the same date each year. In event of a conflict with Easter, Black Gold would be held on the first weekend of April.

Weeks asked that members think about a big event which could be held in conjunction with Black this year.

"We will try to come up with something unique to top the Stella Taylor swim," he said.

In other business, the Committee:

*Appointed Carol Ann Haller as parade chairman.

*Appointed Anita Adams as childrens' events coordinator.

*Discussed selecting an out-of-state traveler at random during the Jubilee and making them official guests for the weekend.

*Learned that Jill Rice will coordinate the 13 mile run this year.

*Reappointed Dean Jones of the Evening Times to prepare the Jubilee press kit.

*Discussed the possibility of reviving the "Harvest Queen Contest" for the Jubilee.

*Learned from Brett McCormick that raft race rules will be changed to forbid the use of manufactured materials.

*Discussed the possibility of setting up racquetball and water ski tournaments.

*Set Friday, Oct. 9, as the next Black Gold Jubilee Committee meeting.

Present at last Friday's meeting were Lavioise Taylor, Steve Weeks, Mary Oresnick, Dean Jones, Anita Adams, Becky Wedgworth, Charla Sizemore, Ernie McCroan, Carol Ann Haller, Brett McCormick, and Mike Burkett.

Brown is a 1981 graduate of Shippensburg State College in Shippensburg, Pa. He wrote for the campus newspaper, at Shippensburg State for four years and served as the editor in chief his senior year.

He has also written for the Carlisle Evening Sentinel.

"Jeff Brown is an energetic, competent, and personable reporter. We think he will be a great asset to the community and to the Herald-Observer," said Bumgardner.

BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce elected four new directors and a slate of officers for next year.

The four new members of the board are Israel Baez, Doug Lockhart, Robert Ressler and James Herring. They were elected to four year terms by the 168 voting members of the 250 member chamber.

They replace outgoing directors Paul G. Corbin, Rupert "Bubba" Mock Jr., Frank Green and Lynette Thompson.

The new officers will be: John Jacks, president; James Baker, first vice president; Dennis Wedgworth, second vice president; Doris Priest, treasurer and Jewel Crane, executive secretary.

The officers will be sworn in at the awards banquet, set for 8 p.m. October 15 at the Elks Club. Tickets for the banquet

The board of directors Thursday gave its approval to the information booklet after hearing a presentation by Donald Dean. Dean represents the firm of Penbody Advertising Service, which will produce the booklet.

The chamber will receive 10 percent of the gross sales of the booklet, which Dean said would probably be about $13,000, leaving the chamber with a profit of

The 6 by 8 inch booklet will contain lists of businesses, clubs and agencies; recreation and education information; maps; a history of Belle Glade and advertisements, said Dean. The booklet could be put together in about three weeks and delivered in another six weeks, according to Dean, adding the chamber could accept delivery on the booklets before the first of the year.

New food stamp rules coming

WASHINGTON - New rules were published Sept. 4 that will change the way food stamp eligibility is determined and how benefits are calculated, starting October 1. According to Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Mary Jarratt, the new rules will implement portions of the Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 1981 and are aimed at saving $1.3 billion in federal costs for the food stamp program in fiscal year 1982.

Today's regulations set a gross monthly income eligibility limit for all food stamp households except those with elderly, or disabled members. Under the present law, eligibility is determined on the basis of a household's net monthly income, a figure derived by subtracting the $85 food stamp "standard deduction" and any other allowable child care, excess shelter, earned income, or medical deductions from the household's gross monthly income.

All told, the changes in the eligibility rules will save $355 million next year. Major cost savings next year will also be achieved through a new rule to pro-rate a household's first month's benefits. Existing rules permit a household joining the food stamp program to get a full month's allotment, regardless of the day of the month that it applies. Beginning October 1, a household will receive benefits from the day that it applies instead of for the whole month. This change will save $411 million in fiscal year 1982.

Most food stamp recipients will be affected by a rule change that will index the standard and child care/excess shelter deductions less frequently. Presently, the food stamp program grants all households a standard deduction of $85 and permits households with child care and/or unusually high shelter costs a combined deduction of up to $115 for these expenses. Existing rules provide for an annual update of both deductions each January.

Today's regulations will freeze the standard and child care/excess shelter deductions at $85

Nervous jitters

'Boy what a beginning for football in the Glades last week! Not your typical beginning for Glades area football teams.

However this is another week, and I'm sure this week's results will not be anything like last week's results.

I know victory lies out there somewhere for the Raiders, Devils, Gators and Crusaders.

Last week's results were just a case of nervous jitters for many of the area football players...many who are playing for the very first time.

Get out the vote next week

Glades voters are asked once again to return to the polls on next Tuesday and vote for the candidate of their choice. In Tuesday night's election not enough votes were garnered by any candidate in the East and West Boroughs to come out a winner without having to go into a runoff.

Only approximately half of the registered voters in the city bother to vote in the election. It's not only important to register, but once you register you should take advantage of the opportunity to vote.

Don't let next Tuesday's election pass you by without casting your vote.

ARC needs you

The Association for Retarded Citizens—Glades Area needs your help.

The Association will host the Winter Special Olympics. This is the first time the games will be held in the Glades and affords the Glades Community the opportunity to see many of our 'special citizens' participate in sports activities.

Mike Underwood, has undertaken the responsibility of directing the games and Mike needs the support of many community volunteers to assist with the games don't hesitate to give Mike at call at the Belle Glade City Hall or Call Tricia Blash, the executive director of the local ARC a call.

Although the games will be held in Belle Glade, many youths from Pahokee and South Bay will be participating in the games and volunteers are needed from those two communities also.

If you or a organization that you are member of would like to volunteer to assist with the games don't hesitate to give Mike at call at the Belle Glade City Hall or Call Tricia Blash, the executive director of the local ARC a call.

When you give HELP...you give HOPE.

Vegetable growers seminar planned

BELLE GLADE — The Florida Cooperative Extension Service will sponsor a "Vegetable Growers' Seminar" Thursday, Sept. 24, at 10 a.m., in the Extension Auditorium, at the Extension Agent's Office, 2976 State Rd. 15.

The topic will be "Vegetable Seeding Techniques."

The speakers will be Dr. Dan Cantliffe, Seed Physiologist at the University of Florida; Dr. Vic Guzman, Horticulturist, AREC, Belle Glade and Dr. Herb Bryan, Horticulturist, AREC Homestead.

Techniques will be discussed which will assist growers in the areas of improving seedling emergence in adverse weather conditions; determining which are the most vigorous seed lots to plant; and seeding to a stand to reduce the need for thinning.

The use of seed soaks, fluid drilling, growth regulators, and seed coats to improve the emergence of vegetable seedlings will be demonstrated.

Dr. Kenneth D. Shuler, County Extension Agent II, said the seminar will be of particular interest to celery, lettuce, and leaf growers.

Skin deep

I know it's just a matter of time until I'm pulled over by some policeman and cited for driving a public eyecore.

Now that the water restrictions have been lifted, I have no suitable excuse for not washing my car.

Despite its appearance—cars do tend to look like their owners (just like dogs look like their masters and husbands and wives begin to resemble after a few years—the thing does run.

This is more than I can say for some cars, like the Cadillac Seville with diesel engine that an out of town friend of my drives.

On the surface, this Cadillac would seem like a dream. It is loaded with adjustable leather seats, high quality stereo, and all the other gizmos that go into Cadillacs.

Every time I visit my friend, he insists that we take his Cadillac, instead of my little old rusted out white limousine.

Agreed, the little old white limousine doesn't do much except run. The air conditioner stays clogged most of the time, but all of that cool spray is actually kind of refreshing on a hot day. I was even thinking of getting a patent on it, if I can find out how to clog it just right.

And there is a chunking sound in the front end, the seats are worn out, there is an idiot light on my dash that stays on, and the seat belt buzzer is liable to go on at any time for no reason.

But the car runs. It can be depended on at any occasion, to get up and go to a fire, to drive me down to the supermarket, or even all the way to Virginia, like it did this summer (it got me back to Florida too).

I don't mean this to sound like an endorsement for the particular auto that I have, because I don't intend ever, ever to buy another one. But the thing runs. Which is more than I can say for some Cadillac Seville with diesel engines.

My friend's Cadillac Seville went on another sit down strike Saturday night. It always does when I ride in it. He swears that it's fine the rest of the time. This time, it took three wreckers—probably half those in town to get it going again.

The first wrecker operator was pure hippie league. He had thick, shoulder length hair, ringed by a headband, a beard and moustache, and no shirt. He had perfected a Charles Manson stare, which faded the bored Cadillac Seville not at all.

Manson attempted to jump start the Caddy, but the Caddy's twin batteries just sucked the power out of his truck battery.

Manson gave up, called in help and left.

The next wrecker driver was a more excitable little type. He walked right up to the Caddy and unleashed a mile-long string of the foulest curses I have ever heard, and then he kicked the Caddy's bumper. He didn't care that we might have been preachers or have a heart problem. He just cut loose with the vilest torrent against the car possible.

But the Caddy was bored by it all and completely unimpressed. It refused to start for Mr. Personality. Mr. Personality tried once again, this time with a string of curses which probably haven't been heard on earth since the days of the Babylonians. This time he kicked a tire. No dice. The car would not be intimidated.

In between the second and third wrecker, a group of hangers-on who had been taking in this in came over and offered their assistance. My friend had lost hope of getting his car started, so he didn't object when they removed the air filter and began tinkering under the hood. They were going to squirt some charcoal starter into the carburetor when the third wrecker arrived.

The third wrecker proved to be the charm. The driver looked like a Hot Angel, but had the idea to jump start the Cadillac using two wreckers at once. It worked. The Caddy whooshed to life immediately.

I came away that night with an even greater appreciation for my homely little car. Like people, beauty in cars is only skin deep.

Agricultural Insecticide Company, Inc. of Belle Glade opened their No. 2 store in Pahokee. The store handled a complete line of seeds, feeds and farmers hardware.

The Corla Gables P.H.A. office announced approval of Parkway Manor subdivision in Pahokee, known as the "Orange Grove." Several homes had already been sold, and the construction was expected to begin within three weeks.

The 13 million dollar sugar mill to be built at Belle Glade was the second biggest new industry announced during the month of August by the Florida Development Commission.

The new sugar mill, to be built by Florida Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative, a local organization, was scheduled to open in Dec. 1962 and was to employ approximately 1,000 people.

The Pahokee City Council was asked to consider the possibility of extending city water mains to serve the new subdivision being built in Canal Point.

The council also approved the plan submitted by Florida Power and Light Co. for re-building the power lines along Bacon Point Road from the Baptist Church to the city park when the road is widened and sidewalks built.

Whenever you begin to feel as if your vote doesn't count, think on this: In the 1951 city commission race, the seating of three newly-elected city commissioners and naming of a mayor were postponed in Belle Glade when an admitted illegal vote was cast in the municipal election that resulted in one post being invalidated.

Alfred Meeks was elected president of the Pahokee High School Class of 1952 at a meeting of members of the Senior Class.

With one road project completed, residents of the Everglades could look forward to improvement of two other highways that form a part of the Palm Beach County network of roads.

Chairman of the County Commission, Paul Rardin, said the State Road Department was scheduled to let the contract for improvement of Bolles Canal Road.

Rardin also reported that Rubin Construction Company started resurfacing a stretch of road between Twenty Mile Bend and Six Mile Bridge.

A quarter of a million dollar Glades land deal was completed by C.A. Bailey, a Pahokee realtor, for the purchase of 6,000 acres lying north of the St. Lucie canal and fronting on Conner's Highway for a distance of five miles. The Farm Security administration purchased the land from the Bessemer Properties corporation and G.H. Tucker. Total acreage in the deal amounted to 6,209 acres.

The Farm Security administration was to provide a co-operative farming project for 150 low income families. In addition to farming, these families were to raise livestock and dairy cattle.

At the executive board meeting of the South Bay Parent-Teachers Association the year program of work was planned and plans were made for the annual teachers reception. Mrs. F.W. Mutchler and Mrs. Laura Wilkitts were appointed on the entertainment committee and Mrs. Leslie Ellison was in charge of the hospitality committee.

Executives of the new sugar company management in Canal Point authorized construction of a tractor shed and minor repairs. Assets of the United States Sugar Corporation, which were to take over the Southern Sugar Company, were listed as totaling approximately $14,000,000.

How to induce painting of houses and improvement of grounds was discussed at the regular Friday luncheon meeting of the Pahokee Rotary Club following a report by President W.P. Jernigan, Jr., in which he quoted a woman as saying there was no incentive to her to keep her place in good order when neighbors' houses were unpainted and the grounds weedy.

R.D. Hawkins suffered painful injuries to his foot and leg in an accident with his Fordson tractor.

THE CHRISTIAN DAY Crusaders lost their season opening against the Okeechobee Brahms. The Crusaders will face the LaBelle Cowboys Friday in LaBelle. The Crusaders will be looking for their first win of the season. The Cowboys won their season opener against Moore Haven.

Pahokee loses 10-6 to Cardinal Newman

The Pahokee High School football team Friday night fell short in their efforts to open the 1981 gridiron season with a victory, as Cardinal Newman of West Palm Beach downed the Blue Devils 10-6.

Pahokee found itself behind 10-0 in the second quarter, but then proceeded to shut down the Crusaders offense.

The Crusaders jumped to a 3-0 lead on their first drive when Pete Polak hit a 24 yard field goal.

When Blue Devil Richard Lyndale fumbled the ball into Newman's waiting hands, an eight yard drive moved the ball 55 yards to the goal. Alonzo Jefferson ran it in for the touchdown, and Polak hit the extra point.

From that point on, the Pahokee defense stopped the Newman offensive drives.

"Our defense did a real good job," said coach Sandy Hyneman. "Defenses are usually ahead of the offenses. They usually get out of the block first."

Before the first half closed, Blue Devil quarterback Bernard Johnson connected with Joe Walker for a touchdown, but Pahokee failed to score the rest of the game.

"Our offense was really ragged," said Hyneman, adding that the team has been working on fumble prevention this week.

Turnovers kept the game out of the Devils reach - they lost the ball to the Crusaders four times through fumbles.

Pahokee moved the ball 161 yards on the ground, while Cardinal Newman managed only 95 yards.

The Devils also out-passed their opponents for yardage, 87 to 42, and picked up one more first down than the Crusaders; but the turnovers prevented them from sustaining a game-winning scoring drive.

"I'm really pleased that our boys didn't quit," commented Hyneman. "They hung right in there and tried. We kept knocking on the door, but couldn't get it to open."

GLADES CENTRAL CENTERS are Melvin Dixon, Tony Moore, Lamont Wright, and Rodney Weston.

Glades Day win streak snapped by Pine Crest

Defending Class 1A state football champion Glades Day School's 17-game winning streak was snapped by Fort Lauderdale Pine Crest Friday night.

The Gators failed to convert several scoring opportunities against the Panthers, second ranked in the state Class 2A poll, and came home with a disappointing 14-6 defeat. The Gators winning streak dated back to 1979.

Glades Day opened up a 6-0 lead in the second quarter when Julio Rivas made a 21-yard run to the goal line. The extra point attempt failed, and the Gators couldn't capitalize on any opportunities throughout the rest of the game.

Pine Crest running back Ed Saar scored in the third and fourth quarters, each time from the one-yard line, and Pine Crest managed to pick up the extra point each time.

"Defensively, we played an outstanding first half, but a poor second half," said Gators coach Byron Walker. "We should have scored three times in the first half, and didn't. I wasn't real pleased with the offensive execution."

"Defensively, we did little or nothing to win in the second half," he said. "As a consequence, we had very few offensive scoring opportunities."

"We'll start a new one, maybe," Walker, commented on the end of the 17 game winning streak. "It's disappointing, but losing is part of the game."

Glades Day will play its first home game of the season Friday, Sept. 18, at 8 p.m. against King's Academy.

"They won their opener, and I'm sure they'll come down here higher than the sky," said Walker. "We'll have to climb on a ladder to knock them down."

Christian Day drops opener in overtime

The Christian Day School football team Friday fumbled away several opportunities to win its opener and came home from Okeechobee with a 12-6, double-overtime loss to the Brahman junior varsity squad.

Despite six fumbles, the Crusaders could have put the game away with 6:46 left in the last quarter, but a potential game winning extra point was blocked.

This forced the game, tied at 6-6, into the first of two overtime periods.

Okeechobee scored its only regulation time touchdown on a drive from the 12 yard line with 11:44 to go in the second quarter.

The Brahms recovered a James Barnwell fumble on the Christian Day 12-yard line and drove to the four-yard line before the first quarter ended. Two plays into the second quarter, Todd Wojciechowski rushed in for the first touchdown of the game.

An attempt at the two-point conversion failed.

With the fourth quarter rapidly coming to a close, Crusader Jody Canales blocked a Brahman punt and the Crusaders recovered on the Okeechobee four-yard line.

A penalty against Okeechobee placed the ball on the two-yard line, and on the next play, James Barnwell ran it in for the touchdown.

The Crusaders could have scored what might have been the game winning point, but Okeechobee responded to the pressure and blocked the kick.

The game went into double overtime before a winner was finally decided. Okeechobee, taking over at the Crusaders' 10-yard line just into the second overtime period, led two consecutive rushes of four- and five-yards before handing the ball to Wojciechowski, who picked up the last yard for the touchdown.

A second attempt at a two-point conversion also failed.

The rulebook gave the Crusaders a last chance, but Topp Paez fumbled the ball and when the Brahms recovered, the game was over.

Coach Woody Salvatori said he feels many of the turnovers were due to the youth of the team.

"It will get better, it will improve," he said. "Most of them (freshmen) needed experience, and that is just what they got - close to a game and a half because those extra periods were rather long."

"The offensive line was not as strong as I anticipated, that's the main weakness that I saw," said Salvatori, adding he was pleased with the performance of the "whole defensive line."

The Crusaders travel to LaBelle this week.

"We have to improve alot this week, but we're capable of winning," said Salvatori.

Fort Pierce squeaks by GCCH in season opener last Friday

Defense was the name of the game Friday night as the Glades Central High School football squad lost to Fort Pierce Central 5-3.

Two field goals and a safety comprised the scoring. Fort Pierce, which trailed 3-2 with only six minutes left to play, clinched the game with a 24-yard field goal by Ben Hollis.

"We didn't get anything going," said Glades Central Coach Ben McCoy. "We missed too many blocks."

The Raiders led 3-2 at the half, a lead they managed to hold throughout the third quarter and most of the fourth, until Hollis hit the game-winning three pointer.

Fort Pierce's safety came in the second quarter from a blocked punt.

"We're going to get back on the winning track this week," said McCoy. "We're definitely going to have a winning season, no doubt about that."

The Raiders will be working on their offense in preparation for this Friday's game against North Shore, according to McCoy.

The North Shore game will be played on the Raiders' home gridiron at 8 p.m.

Belle Glade crime stats contained in report

BELLE GLADE—Crime in Belle Glade has increased, but not as much as it has nationally or across the state, according to statistics the United States Department of Justice released Thursday, September 10.

According to the 1980 Uniform Crime Reports "Crime in the United States," Belle Glade experienced an increase of about 13.5 percent in crime while the nation experienced an increase of 18 percent. Crime increased in Florida by 19.1 percent.

The Justice Department gathered statistics across the nation for all violent crimes, including murder, rape, robbery and aggravated assault.

It also gathered information on the number of burglaries, larcenies and thefts, motor vehicle thefts and arson.

There were four murders in Belle Glade in 1980, compared with seven in 1979, representing a 42.6 percent decrease. Nationwide, murder increased 7.4 percent and in Florida it increased about 28 percent.

There were 18 reported incidents of rape in Belle Glade, compared to only seven the year before. This represents a 157 percent increase. The number of reported incidents in Florida and the United States increased 18.3 percent and eight percent respectively in 1980.

Robbery and aggravated assault also increased in Belle Glade. Reported robberies increased approximately 69 percent in Belle Glade and 64 percent in Florida.

Incidents of aggravated assaults were up about 76.5 percent in the city and 16 percent across the state. Nationwide, the totals for robberies and assaults were up 17.5 and 6.6 percent, respectively. Belle Glade Police Inspector Mike Miller said the rise or fall of violent crimes is purely "happenstance."

"You can't prevent a crime of passion, such as rape or murder," said Miller. "It's also very hard to prevent a robbery."

Burglaries decreased in Belle Glade, according to the report. There were 100 fewer reported incidents in 1980 than in 1979, marking a 13 percent decrease.

The numbers of burglaries across the state increased by almost 25 percent, while increasing at about 14 percent nationwide.

Incidents of larceny and theft and motor vehicle theft were all up in Belle Glade. Larceny and theft increased by about 30 percent in Belle Glade, 12 percent in Florida and eight percent in the country.

Thefts of motor vehicles in the city rose by 37.4 percent, higher than both the state increase of 19 per cent and the national increase of about one and a half percent.

There were 27 reported cases of arson in Belle Glade in 1980, up from seven in 1979.

"We started what we feel is a good crime prevention program," said Miller, noting the city has a special burglary unit.

"The big key to our success is citizen cooperation," he added. "We get a lot of support and cooperation from the citizens of Belle Glade."

Savings resulting from this change in fiscal year 1983 are expected to be $128 million.

An additional savings of $385 million is planned when new regulations delay the cost-of-living update of the Thrifty Food Plan, which is normally adjusted annually in January. The new rules will schedule the next adjustments for April 1982, July 1983, October 1984 and every October after that. The Thrifty Food Plan is used to calculate how many food stamps a household may receive. The size of a household's monthly benefit is determined by subtracting 30 percent of the household's net income from the amount of money it would cost to feed a household its size according to the Thrifty Food Plan. A family of four with no income now gets $233. Households that have earned income will be permitted to deduct 18 percent of their gross earnings, rather than the current 20 percent, to offset work-related expenses under new rules covering the "earnings disregard."

This decrease in the amount a household with earnings can deduct for work expenses is expected to save $49 million in fiscal year 1982, and will reduce benefits by at least six dollars to nearly forty percent of working households that receive food stamps. Approximately twenty percent of the food stamp program's eight million households have earned income.

How can conservation serve the best interests of both FPL and its customers?

Bob Tallon, FPL Executive Vice President, with the Company's Conservation Van, a mobile exhibit of energy saving tips.

Is conservation really necessary? Yes. We know that many of our customers have been working hard to conserve electricity and it's important to continue with this effort for three main reasons:

First, it will help you gain control over your use of electricity. And a kilowatt hour not used is one you don't pay for.

Second, it reduces our dependence on oil, which is both expensive and vulnerable to interruption. If customers use less electricity, we need less oil to generate part of that electricity.

Third, it can help limit the need to build costly new generating plants.

I'm already conserving electricity, but my bill is still going up. Why? Mainly because of things neither you nor we can control. Like the cost of OPEC fuel oil, inflation, weather extremes, and unexpected mechanical problems at some of our plants. Where we can exercise control, we do it. For example, before we use oil, we use all our other less-costly generating sources - nuclear, natural gas, and coal-generated power from other utilities brought into the state by transmission lines.

If we use less electricity, won't FPL just raise our rates? No. We're adding more than 100,000 new customers a year and the revenues from these customers help offset any revenue reductions which may be due to conservation by existing customers. Inflation and fuel prices will remain the major factors in higher costs for customers.

What is FPL doing to conserve fuel? Many things, ranging from supporting research into future energy sources such as solar, to making our plants even more efficient. Here are just three examples:

Newly-designed burners in many units use less fuel and will save over 300,000 barrels of oil this year. The purchase of coal-generated power will save nearly 2,000,000 barrels of oil this year. Our nuclear plants produce electricity at a much lower cost than do conventional plants, and their fuel costs are much lower. Since nuclear operations began in 1972, our three nuclear units have saved the equivalent of over one hundred and thirty million barrels of fuel oil. That's about 1.6 billion dollars in fuel costs our customers did not have to pay.

Will FPL help me conserve? Absolutely. FPL offers home and business energy audits, the Watt-Wise Living™ program for new home construction, and several other programs to help you conserve. And many new programs are planned for the coming years as part of FPL's "Energy Management Plan for the '80s". In addition, we're continually giving our customers conservation suggestions in folders and other forms of communications.

For more information about a home energy audit or other ways to conserve, contact your local FPL office. We're always ready to help.

BELLE GLADE--Commencement exercises were held Friday, Sept. 11 for the first nursing class at West Technical Education Center.

Seven graduates from the communities of Belle Glade, Pahokee, Indiantown and Clewiston took part in the ceremony.

The ceremony included the "Lighting of Candles," a symbolic ceremony most schools use during nurses' graduation.

"Completion of program marks a milestone"

The graduates carried long stem yellow roses during the procession as Ms. Patricia Hood, R.N. from Glades General Hospital of Belle Glade introduced the graduates to the families and friends.

The Rev. J. Winnett of Clewiston gave the invocation and Willie Singleton welcomed the guests and introduced the special guests in attendance.

Mrs. Annie Folston, vice-president of the class, and the mistress of ceremony introduced Mrs. Peacock, R.N., the assistant director of Nursing at Glades General Hospital.

Mrs. Peacock told the graduates and their families they had much to be proud.

"The majority of the graduates are home-makers, and they found a way to combine their studies with their homelife," she said.

Following the speaker's address, Ms. Karen DeStefano, R.N., the coordinating teacher of the program presented the graduates a certificate of their family pinned the graduate.

Ms. Wanda Lowe, L.P.N., of Glades General Hospital gave the nursing pledge.

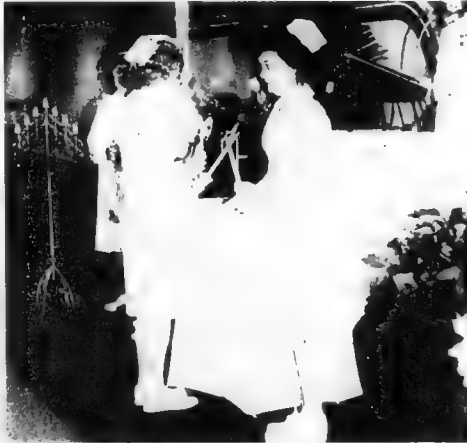

Mrs. Carole Burns, president of the class, said the completion of the one year program is a real milestone in their life.

Two members of the graduation class will each be employed at Everglades Memorial Hospital in Pahokee, Hendry General in Clewiston and Glades General in Belle Glade. One of the graduates will work for a private physician in Clewiston.

Members of the 1981 graduation class are: Faye Abernathy, Shirley Day, Laura Farnsworth, Annie Folston of Pahokee, Dolores Carlisle of Indiantown, and Sylvia Anderson and Carole Burns of Clewiston.

Volunteers need for Olympics

BELLE GLADE—The Association for Retarded Citizens-Glades Area will host for the first time the Winter Special Olympics.

Mrs. Tricia Blash, executive director of the ARC said the games will be held in Belle Glade on Saturday, Nov. 14.

Mike Underwood, the city's recreation coordinator and a member of the ARC Board of Directors, has been selected to serve as the winter games director.

Underwood said approximately 90 volunteers are needed for the games. A meeting will be held on Thursday, Sept. 17 at 3:30 p.m. at City Hall in Conference Room B, for would be volunteers.

Underwood said no special skills are needed by the volunteers.

"Sororities, social organizations, civic clubs, school groups, religious groups and community organizations are encouraged to volunteer to work at the games," said Underwood.

The games will be held at Glades Central Community School, Lake Shore Middle School and the Triangle Bowling Center.

The goal of many of the students participating in the Winter Olympics will be to advance past the local and district competition to the state games.

Mrs. Shirley Jordan, county coordinator for the Special Olympics, was in Belle Glade on Sept. 9 to present Albert Polk with a autographed photograph of President Ronald Reagan for his achievements during the Olympics last year.

Polk won gold medals in the high jump and 400 meter run during the summer games. He is a 1981 graduate of Pahokee High School.

"We're most anxious to bring the winter games to the Glades," said Mrs. Jordan.

Jim Riley, assistant county coordinator of the Special Olympics, said plans call for the basketball competition to be held at the Lake Shore and Glades Central gymnasiums, the gymnastics at Glades Central and bowling at the local bowling center.

The basketball players will be participating in individual and team competition. The individual competition will consist of the "run, dribble and shoot" skills.

In gymnastics, the participants will be judges in free exercises, tumbling and a balance team routine. The bowlers will play two games.

The participants and volunteers will gather for lunch at the Glades Central cafeteria and there will be entertainment by one of the high school bands.

Underwood said persons wanting more information about the games can contact him at City Hall or call 996-0100 or call Mrs. Blash at 996-4336, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

DR. DAVID T. EVANS EVERGLADES PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

...and healed the sick and fed the hungry, but the Jews were ready to stone him.

...have shown you many good works from the father." He said. "For which of these do you stone?"

...showed only good, but He was not one to give in to the wishes of others. In spite of His good works and efforts to remove suffering, He was constantly driving them to stone Him—possibly to death.

Christ must have been saddened by the rejection of His works, but He went forward with His mission, even though He knew it would lead to death. He could see that His future would be unendurable. With our lack of understanding of His love, it is hard to understand His doing this.

Christ's love for us doesn't depend on our response because it is initiated and nourished by His outgoing and growing free-giving of Himself.

Yet we can feel a little of this saddening experience. As parents we normally do only the best for our children, but we don't do it with the anticipation of a favorable response. We act out of love. Many times, however, our thoughtful and unselfish love is spurned or disregarded, and we have only heartache.

Since our love does not have the necessary depth, we weaken as a result of a response. The words "I love you" are so common they come from a child, a loved one, or a friend. We shouldn't expect it or we may be disappointed. Even worse than this is keeping score or expecting return.

Henry Drummond said something like "Those few things which I did purely out of love, without anyone knowing it, stand out in a lifetime's activities."

Love truly has its own reward.

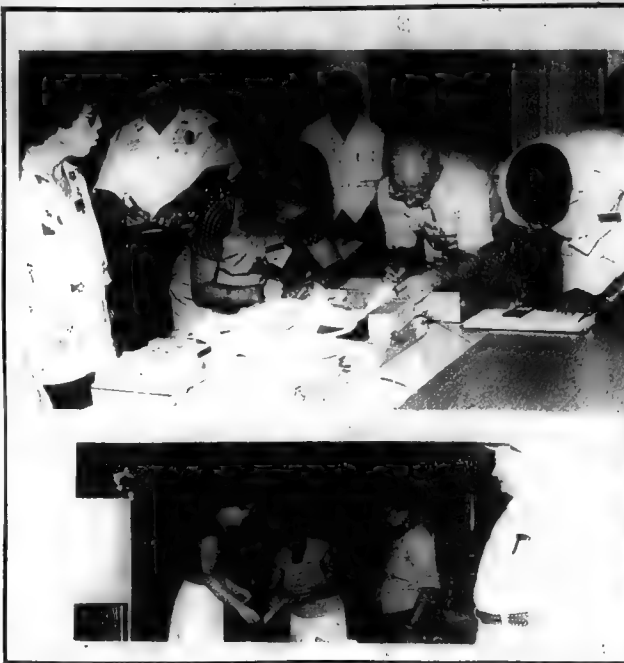

Have you ever done something with a purely unselfish motive and have it backfire in your face? The person you help, when they find out what you have done, turn on you and give you a hard time. Sometimes you lose a close friend in an effort to help someone without any possibility of personal gain.

You may say "Why try to do good?"

We don't do good for reward, nor do we worry about the results. We live in love in response to God's action in Christ. God's love is the impetus for our lives and whether we receive good or evil our deed must always be done.

Love changes men. Christ's love makes us new men. It is not likely we will be stoned or ridden out on a rail, but our hearts may say something which may hurt us. Our hurt is small compared to the suffering in love which Christ endured.

Hold fast to Christ's love and do good to all men. Then, no matter what comes, life will be full, happy and full of love's reward.

Solid Waste Authority
tentatively approves budget

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE — The Palm Beach County Solid Waste Authority Monday night tentatively approved the fiscal 1981-1982 budget, totalling $639,016 for the Glades Region Solid Waste Processing and Disposal Facility.

The budget is based on a cost of $24.79 per ton of waste disposed at the site, according to a fact sheet provided by Timothy F. Hunt Jr., executive director. Hunt estimated that 29,000 tons will be handled by the facility during the year.

The new budget represents an increase of more than 50 per cent over the previous year's budget of $417,196.

Included in the budget is $111,346 in direct operating expenses, including salaries, unemployment funds and benefits.

Of the 29,000 tons the facility is expected to handle during the year, 19,000 tons will have to be hauled at a cost of $8 a ton or a total estimated cost of $152,000.

Indirect operating expenses, including engineering, legal, bookkeeping, auditing and financial services, totaled $375,992.

A total of $263,024 was budgeted for debt service obligations.

The authority also received a construction-inspection progress report on the Glades Transfer Station from the engineering and planning firm of Barker, Osha and Anderson.

Construction on the station should be completed within three weeks, according to Charles A. Anderson.

"I don't think the gas venting system is adequate," said Anderson. The gas must build up in the system before it is vented, according to Anderson.

Therein lies the problem. We do not want it to build up to hazardous levels," he said.

Mayor Tom Altman suggested the contractor be pressed for a solution to the problem.

The board also decided to have an agreement reached with the Okeechobee County Commission reduced to writing. The agreement, if given final approval, sets rates for use of the Okeechobee County Landfill.

According to Hunt, the authority can obtain a contract for use of the landfill at a cost of $1.30 per cubic yard with a down payment of $20,000. The contract may be renegotiated, renewed or dropped at the end of an initial 60 day period.

Under the agreement, it would cost $22.19 per ton to haul waste to the Okeechobee landfill, compared to $24.19 per ton to haul garbage to the Palm Beach County landfills.

The authority tentatively approved pursuing the agreement and attempting to arrange a lower rate.

Machinists:
Hairline precision
in the classroom

By JIM JONES

Don L. Zaccagnino (some people find it simpler to just call him 'Zack') believes that a skilled machinist has knowledge rivaling that of an engineer.

Zaccagnino is in the business of training machinists at West Technical Education Center, a process which takes not months, but years.

The student who is willing to invest the time and effort, however, can look forward to a well-paying career in just about any community in the country.

The epitome of the machinist's trade is a tool and die maker, who can command between $20 and $30 an hour. "That's the pinnacle of the machine shop trade," he said.

The typical machinist student can look forward to several years of school, followed by several years of apprenticeship, before finally becoming a journeyman.

A machinist has to be good at math, measuring, judging dimensions, and able to read blue prints. "It gets very technical," Zaccagnino says.

Despite the challenge of the trade, Zaccagnino's students approach their studies with enthusiasm.

"Somebody is always working. There is plenty of erubescence. My classes test out among the highest scorers in the school," he says.

Because of the technical nature of the class, Zaccagnino says the most students he can effectively train at one time is 15 to 18.

A beginner can look forward to 1,080 hours of training. Classes meet five days a week, from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Students take half an hour for lunch.

"It takes time to acquire touch—the manual skills to operate machinery. It's more than just turning on a machine and letting it go," he said.

Zaccagnino tries to find part-time employment for his second-year students, who typically earn a minimum wage, but may earn $4 to $5 an hour.

Even after a machinist completes a vocational course, such as West Tech offers, he may go to work for minimum wage, until the company finds out what he can do.

Employers are unwilling to turn new machinists loose on their expensive equipment until they determine how much they know.

The range of knowledge required is awesome. It's summed up in a 2,482-page manual, written with charts and fine print. Machinists are expected to own the manual, plus their own tools, which may cost between $600 and $900.

In short, a machinist—as epitomized by a tool and die maker—is what some say America has too few of these days: a craftsman.

Zaccagnino hits his students with the requirement for precision early on. For their very first project, he requires a tolerance of 2,000ths of an inch—the size of a hair.

The emphasis is not misplaced. Once a student takes his place in the labor market, he will be expected to meet tolerances finer than 2,000ths of an inch.

Zaccagnino, 50, teaches machine shop because he loves the craft, not because he has to.

On that point, he must appear to be an unlikely machine shop instructor. After all, he graduated from the University of Miami with a degree in botany and zoology.

Then there were the 12 years as a produce dealer and the time at Pahokee High School, when he taught and was best of friends with biology.

But deeper in his background is a life-long affiliation with machine shops, which stretches back to his boyhood, when his father was a machinist for Pitney Bowes.

Even during the days that he taught at Pahokee High School, he crafted fine knives in his spare time.

"When I first started teaching, I didn't have the credentials for industrial arts, which were my first love, he said.

For a while, he considered becoming a veterinarian, which explains the botany and zoology degree.

"My own business experience and shop background enabled me to move into it (machine shop) as a career," he says.

Zaccagnino is now trying to impart to his students what it has taken him a lifetime to acquire. Tracers, lathes, horizontal milling machines, drilling machines (five types), metal cutting machines (four types), tool and cutter grinders, and surface grinders are just some of the 37 pieces of equipment West Tech has in its machine shop.

When purchased several years ago, the equipment cost $400,000. The price would be even higher today because of inflation.

"Vocational training requires a sacrifice of time just like college. The more time you invest, the more you learn," he said.

"The training that you get here isn't the key that gets you the job. It gets your foot in the door and makes the employer stand still to listen to you," he says.

The same precision that Zaccagnino brings to his classroom extends to his personal life. He built his home in Pahokee in two phases, serving as laborer, carpet layer, and sub-contractor.

He met his wife, the former Louise Hatton, a Pahokee native, at the University of Miami. She currently teaches at East Lake Middle School.

They have four children: Lois, 20, who is employed by accountant Leonard Darbow; Donald, 20, and Mike, 18, who are both machinists with Pratt Whitney in West Palm Beach; and Treba, 19, who is a student at Belknap College in Newton, Kansas.

Zaccagnino said he would welcome new students to his class. There is no restriction on registration for West Tech day courses. The program has an "open entry, open exit" policy for day classes.

Registration fee for the entire year is only $13.

For more information about the machine shop or any other classes at West Tech, visit the school at 2626 State Road 715, Belle Glade.

Police arrest 10 for theft

Sometime between 3:30 and 4 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 15, a gang of burglars broke into E and K Grocery at 200 S.W. 5th St. and took about $1,200 worth of merchandise and cash.

By 1:30 that afternoon, Belle Glade police officers had charged 10 persons, including three adults, six male juveniles and one female juvenile, with burglary and grand theft.

Detective John Carney said that the ages of the suspects ranged from 15 to 20. All are from Belle Glade, except one youth from South Bay.

Apparently, the group gathered near the 400 block of Avenue B Place, moved to E and K Grocery, owned by Lorraine Edwards, and broke a window to gain entrance.

Tuesday afternoon, Carney said two latent fingerprints found at the scene had already been matched to suspects in custody. A number of the juveniles were transferred to the Division of Youth Services detention facility in West Palm Beach.

Carney said that investigators are studying other burglaries involving similar methods for a possible connection with the suspects arrested Tuesday. Adults arrested and charged with grand theft and burglary were Bobby Earl Griffin, 18, Willie James Williams, 20, and Jimmy Lee Rushing, 18. Bond was set at $1,000 each.

Carney, Patrolman Jack Fulewider, and Patrolman John Dind, were assisted in the investigation by Bill Murray, who collected crime scene evidence; Lt. George Farnell and Sgt. Lee Kielman who matched the latent fingerprints; and Jim Sherill and the K-9 "Tut," who conducted a building search, and assisted in the recovery of items stolen from the grocery.

County traffic death rate continues to increase

Palm Beach County traffic death rates hit a five-year high in 1980 with 182, according to the 1980 Traffic Accident Facts brochure published recently by the Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles.

Traffic deaths in 1977 in Palm Beach County totaled 102 and have increased each year since then.

In 1980, total traffic deaths in Florida were 2,879, compared to 2,635 in 1979.

More than half of the 2,879 deaths—1,732—occurred in rural, rather than urban areas.

The victims have overwhelmingly been male.

Of the 344 pedestrian deaths in 1980 in rural areas, 342 were men. In the other rural traffic fatalities, 998 were male and 389 were female.

In urban areas, 553 of the non-pedestrian traffic fatalities were male and 231 were female.

Although the number of persons killed in Florida has increased, the mileage death rate has actually decreased since 1961. In 1961, the mileage death rate was 5.6, compared to 3.8 in 1980.

The mileage death rate in Hendry County was 3.4 in 1980. Glades County's mileage death rate was 13.0. Palm Beach County's mileage death rate was 4.3.

Persons in age group 25-34 accounted for 26 percent of fatal accidents, the largest single age group. The largest group were 20 to 24 year olds with 18 percent.

Sixty-three percent of the drivers involved in all accidents were males.

Seventy-one percent of persons involved in fatal traffic accidents were residents in the county in which the accident occurred.

Statewide, 4 p.m. was the worst time for accidents with 29,717 recorded during the year. The fewest accidents were recorded at 5 a.m. with 2,865.

Super switcher unveiled

Southern Bell unveiled its new electronic super switcher system at a special media conference September 4 at the company's facility at 325 Gardena Street in West Palm Beach.

This system, a No. 4 Electronic Switching System (EES), will handle all long-distance switching for more than 365,000 customers in Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, and Indian River Counties.

Bob White, local manager for Southern Bell, said, "This 500-petabyte system—called the Super Switcher—was developed by Bell labs to process long distance calls. Capable of handling 160 calls a second or 540,000 an hour, this Super Switcher is more than four times faster than the equipment it replaces."

White continued, "When compared to the older equipment, this new No. 4 EES:

—Is faster and more reliable

—Has a greater capacity

—Occupies less space

—Uses less energy

This new solid-state system is providing improved long distance calling in this area."

"The Super Switcher, while processing calls at close to the speed of light, is capable of self diagnosis of potential problems.

White said, "One key benefit of this new system is energy conservation. This system uses only two-thirds of the energy that the prior systems needed to handle an equal number of calls. At full capacity, this new system will save an equivalent 9,800 barrels of oil a year.

That's enough energy to supply the electrical needs of 2,000 average homes for a year."

The West Palm Beach Super Switcher was placed into service on a gradual basis over the past few weeks. This system, fully operational as of today, now handles about 860,000 calls every day.

"Jointly owned by AT&T Long Lines and Southern Bell, this No. 4 EES represents a $10 million investment in improved long distance calling. This fast, economical, and highly reliable system is state of the art calling," White concluded.

White said, "One key benefit of this new system is energy conservation. This system uses only two-thirds of the energy that the prior systems needed to handle an equal number of calls. At full capacity, this new system will save an equivalent 9,800 barrels of oil a year.

Steve LaVelle and his wife, Jill, performed for students at the school.

Gove students participate in I believe in magic show

BELLE GLADE - It was fun time for kindergarten, first and second grade students at Gove Elementary School students Monday.

Steve LaVelle and his wife, Jill, presented "I Believe in Magic" to the students.

LaVelle, a traveling magical entertainer presented a thirty minutes presentation that included audience participation from the students. LaVelle had the students "rolling with laughter" as he performed a number of incredible acts.

Beginning day luncheon held

BELLE GLADE - The beginning day luncheon of the Xi Iota Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority was held on Aug. 31 at the home of Mrs. Terry Miller.

A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess, and secret sisters for the previous year were revealed during gift exchange, according to Mrs. Mickey Harris. Mrs.

Harris said new secret sisters for the new year were also selected.

Sorority members attending the luncheon were Mrs. Ken Buchanan, Mrs. Lee Burke, Mrs. David Campbell, Mrs. Cecil Conley, Mrs. Marlan Chapman, Mrs. Don Fitch, Mrs. Frank Green, Mrs. Bob White, and Mrs. Dean Wilson.

ONE...TWO...THREE...When I count to three... raise you hand and lets see what will happen, was the instructions of Magician Steve LaVelle. The only thing that happened for this Gove Elementary student was the need to laugh and laugh...and laugh and laugh.
